FOURTH SUNDAY OF LENT A

HOW TO GROW IN OUR FAITH

It's hard for us to keep our priorities straight. The pleasures of our natural life can be so vivid that we let them upstage our supernatural life.

- We want to be popular, so we join in with the gossiping or the vulgar, locker-room talk
- We want to be successful, so we condone the dishonesty and deception being used by everyone else to climb the ladder.
- We want to enjoy ourselves, so we make excuses when our conscience reminds us that there is more to life than just having a good time.

All of us here today are making an effort to follow Christ, to keep our priorities right, and yet, we still have our falls and failures.

Only by strengthening our faith can we really progress on this path of authentic Christianity.

We can do two things to strengthen our faith.

First, we can ask God to strengthen it for us.

- Just as the blind man asked Jesus to show him the Messiah, so that he could believe in him, we can ask God to show us more clearly his presence, truth, and love.
- How could he ever deny such a request?

Second, we can boldly defend our faith.

- When the blind man was interrogated, he bore witness to Christ.
- The more they tried to intimidate him, the more courageously he bore witness.
- Through that process, the eyes of his soul were gradually opened until he recognized in Jesus not just a man of God, not just a prophet, but the Messiah himself.

This week, God will give each one of us a chance to boldly bear witness to him.

Let's make up our minds now to act courageously and faithfully then, so that our lives and the lives of others can be filled more and more with the saving light of faith. (E-priest.com)
